This Week

This week in Nursery we have been exploring our new provision areas, in line with our theme "Why do you love me so much?". The children have continued with painting paper plates and decorating them to be tigers from our focus book 'The Tiger Who Came to Tea'. In our painting area have been encouraging children to add facial features to face outlines and identify the different body parts. In our maths area, children have been exploring with our 'Royd car park', they have had to match the correct numbers on the cars to the correct colour parking spaces.

We have begun with our shared read book, 'The Tiger Who Came to Tea'. We have listened to the story we did some investigation work on what a 'grocer' is using the interactive white board and we answered verbal questions based on a section of the book.

We have continued to introduce phonics we have recapped m and a, this week. Please use the following video when helping your child consolidate their phonics learning as we need consistency for them at home and school.

If you have lost your homework or did not receive one due to absence, please collect your own copy from the notice board in the entrance to Nursery.

Reading books

Children in Nursery are encouraged to select a book from the book box on the carpet area. Children should keep the same book for a week and return these on their last day of Nursery every week. Please ensure you change your child's book with them in the morning.
